My name is Tom Gordon. I am British, from London. I first came to Valencia on holiday five years ago to visit my Spanish friend, David. We met in 2008 at the London College of Music. We were both students in a music technology course. David is a professional musician and music is my passion.

I just loved Valencia. It is a beautiful Mediterranean city. It is always sunny and there is a splendid blue sky. It has the advantages of a big city, but life here is not stressing. There are a lot of cultural and entertainment activities.

I decided to stay in Valencia. I found a job as an English teacher in a private language school. The salary was not very good but it was all right because Valencia is not an expensive city. Now, I am still teaching English. My salary is much better and I love my job.

I met Paula, my girlfriend, at a party. She is from Valencia and she is a physical education teacher. We have a relaxed, happy lifestyle. We have breakfast together and we cycle to work. After work, we go running at the River Turia Park. In the evening, we usually watch a good movie on TV.

On Saturday mornings, we go shopping. We like buying fresh vegetables and fruit, meat and fish at the Central Market. In the evening, we go out with friends. On Sundays, we go to the beach, walk along the seaside promenade and have lunch at a restaurant.

Today is Sunday. We are not going to the beach because it is raining. We are staying at home. David and some friends are having lunch with us. We are cooking a special meal!
